Ham Supper

Delights Patrons

The Home Cured Ham Supper put on by the Ladies' Aid of Knox Presbyterian Church in Harvey Smith's Office last Saturday evening was a very success. All the proceeds of the supper promised to go to the uncertain terms that it "hit the spot" And so it should have, for the Ladies served generous helpings of home-cured ham, scalloped potatoes, salad, with all the trimmings and topped off with home made ice cream and cake.

The Ladies' Aid should be congratulated for their efforts in support of the Church. They have been very active in the past in giving teas and suppers to raise funds and they give a great deal of time to this work—In fact there are several other organizations in Bassano that could take a few pointers along this line from the Ladies' Aid.

The Ladies' Aid was very pleased with the success of the supper. For in addition to receiving many fine compliments from the "hungry ones" they made a very nice profit for they cleared over forty dollars.

Transient Meets With Accident

Albert Karpinski, of Chaplin, Sask., met with a serious accident in Bassano on Saturday morning at 1:30 a.m. when he attempted to haul an airtight freight train near the water tower. Mr. Karpinski was in Bassano over Friday and intended locating his way back to his home in Saskatchewan. Early Saturday morning he attempted to board a freight train while carrying his heavy suitcase. His foot was badly injured and has since been amputated at the heel. His cries attracted the attention of the men at the depot and he was carried to the station while the Doctor was called. He was later transferred to the Bassano Hospital, where he is at present. He is twenty six years of age.

Hussar Notes

The roads around Hussar are in good shape, and will be ready for the gathering on May 24th. Remember the Stampede and Dance at Hussar, May 3rd.

Church services will be held in the school house on June 12th, with Rev. J. M. Fawcett of Hussar officiating.

A great honor has been conferred upon the Hussar Troop of Boy Scouts. They have been selected to represent this district at the Jamboree at Medicine Hat on May 28th. Mr. Albert Fis, Scout Master, will accompany and direct them.

The Hussar Basket-ball team scored to Bradshill on Friday evening and played a game of Basketball there on Saturday evening. They felt that it was a splendid experience. A. Fis drove Mr. Schooling's car, and Mr. H. B. Stilt took a load in his car.

SHOWER IN HONOR OF VIRGINIA CLARK, OF HUSSAR

Virginia May 17th. In honor of Miss Virginia Clark, whose marriage takes place this month a miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mrs. H. A. Treend, who was also assisted by Mrs. W. A. Tracy and Mrs. R. Tracy.

The afternoon was pleasantly spent in playing cards or solving puzzles. First prize in the shower was won by Mrs. Earl Johnson while consolation went to Mrs. Emeral Detmer. Miss Ruth Tracy received a prize for being the first to guess the number of cards.

After the games a delicious lunch was served following which a basket of gifts was brought in to the bride. Many useful and lovely gifts were received. A delightful time was had by all.

Board of Trade Call Special Meeting To Protest Existing Alberta Legislation

Mr. James Snape, President of the Board of Trade, has called a special meeting of the Bassano Board to be held at the Town Hall on the evening of Monday, May 23rd, at 8 p.m. sharp.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss what action, if any, the Board will take with regard to recent legislation of the Government of Alberta, particularly four statutes: viz: The Debt Adjustment Amendment Act, the Limitations Act, the Securities Act, 1933, and the Securities Tax Act 1933.

Numerous public bodies in recent days have protested against the provisions of these statutes and representations have been made to the Minister of Justice, Hon. Ernest Lapointe, urging their disallowance by the Federal Power.

Both the Calgary Board of Trade and the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce have written to the Minister of Finance, seeking disallowance of these statutes. The action of the Government has attracted attention outside the province and has been raised in the Federal House. A petition to the Minister of Justice seeking disallowance has been presented by a private member of the House of Commons.

By its Constitution, the Bassano Board of Trade is a non-political body and in the past has always managed to avoid entering into the realm of political controversy.

The Husar Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. S. W. Lawrie on Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. M. M. McFarland presiding. Plaques were made for serving in the Alberta Legion on May 7th and for two years of service. Mr. T. Burdett and Mrs. H. B. Stilt were appointed to take charge of the cleaning, and Mrs. T. L. Montgomery and Mrs. S. W. Lawrie to purchase needed supplies. There will be no meeting during this summer year.

The Legion was represented at the Husar Day selections given by each member and visitor. The most important business was changing the date of the Husar Day from the first of May to the first Saturday in June.

Mrs. F. L. Snyder was in charge of the Husar Day meeting at her home north of Husar.

Baseball Club Organizes for 1938 Season

The organization meeting of the Bassano Baseball Club was held in the Garage on Wednesday of this week.

Owing to the absence of the President, Alf Maurer occupied the chair.

The following officers were elected: President—Eddie Marquardt, Vice-President—Joe Garcia, Manager—Frank Hayes, Captain—Raiph Burrows.

Vice Captain—A. Arredon.

The financial statement was not completed, but as far as can be ascertained, the club has a balance of approximately $1000.00.

The boys decided to put on a dance on Friday, May 27th, in an effort to raise funds to buy equipment for the start of this season.

Jack Derry was made chairman of the dance, and the boys will put the dance across. We hope the other things, the club should get away to a good start, financially.

The Bassano team will play their initial game on Sunday next, when they meet the Rosemary nine at the Eastern point. Weather conditions permitting, the boys will draw the local diamond and burn the weeds on Sunday morning.

Local Boys Leave on Tuesdays Train

VICTORIA DAY

VICTORIA DAY celebrating the birthday of Queen Victoria (1819-1901), will be observed as usual on Tuesday, May 24. Following the death of her Uncle, William IV in 1837, the young Princess then only 18 years old, was crowned Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and Empress of India. The qualities of her reign were her trust in and friendship for Benjamin Disraeli, a Jew, whose "dear and honoured memory" she paid tribute to at his death; and her barely concealed dislike for Gladstone, of whom she once said that "she spoke to her as if she were a public meeting." She openly distrusted Gladstone and once remarked that "I am the Queen of England" to which Gladstone replied "And I, Madam, am the People of England."

Four attempts were made on the life of the Queen during her reign none of which of course succeeded. One by a Charlist, two by madmen, and one by an Irish lad whom the Queen had pardoned when he was sent to her by her own express after being released from prison.

She came to the throne under auspices none too happy for that time the popular faith in Kings and Queens was on the decline. She revived that faith, consolidated the position of the Crown, captivated the multitudes, and won the respect of thoughtful men. Endowed with the saving grace common sense, she was no intellectual, but she was a wise woman, and the sat or the Queen she brought to it, an austere simplicity and quiet dignity that caused the whole world to mourn, and us in this day to remember "Victoria the Good."

CANADA IN BRITAIN

THE HANNA HERALD says: "Of course, Great Britain herself is a part of the turbulent continent of Europe, and subjected to the influence of all the fierce storms of human passions which sweep the mainland. Life in Britain, as a consequence, is a trying experience."

Exception might well be taken to two statements contained in the above quotation. It has been pointed out many writers and others that Great Britain is not necessarily free from the effects of the hatred, ill-will and passions of the mainland, in her isolation and in the character of her people. As a "fact" of fact, the British people are remarkably free from the influence of these emotions. They don't really hate at all. If Great Britain is "influenced" then so is the United States for it is only to a very slight extent. The influence of Great Britain does not affect the United States that she is affected. There is a vast difference between life on the mainland and life in Britain.

Life anywhere is a trying experience, yes, even in the safe havens of Canada, but it is certainly going a little too far to say that life in Great Britain as a consequence of what is happening in the continent, is a trying experience. We might say that the life of the United States is a trying experience, which makes the experience trying. The people in the United States may be experiencing just the same thing, and we in Canada ought not to delude ourselves that because of our remote geographical position from the European powder-keg that we may be immune to attack, even though it may be certain that Canada would be the first objective.

MEN ARE TOO CLEVER

MEN ARE TOO CLEVER. That is perhaps a startling statement. It might be better to say that men are too clever in some things for the good of the race, or in certain realms of human activity.

Had it not been for the cleverness and ingenuity of men, war would not be the awful tragedy it represents today. It is conceivable that, even as in the days of old, it would be looked upon with some favour. But no sooner than one scientist or engineer discovers or invents some new form of destruction than another introduces something better, even if worse in its awfulness.

But for the cleverness of the habitual criminal and his ingenuity in evading detection, the habitual criminal ought ages ago to have been completely obliterated. As it is, it takes other clever men, but with the power and might of organized society to keep that element in check. In some countries they do not seem able to do even that.

THE LAW has not succeeded. No sooner is a law laid down and put into effect, than it is attacked and overthrown. Every form of sport is always subject to change, often an improvement, because some clever athlete or coach has discovered some way of getting around a rule, or some unfair practice not covered by the rules.

Nevertheless and in case we may be misconstrued, we would not change it. It adds zest to the joy of living which might otherwise become just too prosaic.

A TEXT

DO UNTO OTHERS as you would that others do unto you" is a text, which, as has been suggested, should form the basis of a sermon for our itinerant preaching Premier. It is also broad enough that we should then and for evermore thereafter practice what he preaches. In the present mass hysteria in the throes of his election, is suffering from a plague of pernicious politicians from Alberta, all suffering from a particularly malignant economic disease. They are emissaries and preaching the faith of the Government of Alberta. We can well imagine the wrath of our Premier if Mr. Patterson, or any other citizen of our Sister Province, were to do unto him and our government. The rafters would ring with his simulated rage. Have we not heard him at it on the occasion of the Edmonton by-election? But we suppose it makes a great deal of difference just who commits the offense, and our Premier, being who and what he is, runs true to form in this instance.

THE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

ADDING INSULT to injury after depriving the Lieutenant Governor of the Government House at Edmonton on the specious pretext of economy, it now appears that the head of the State in Alberta, and the King's representative in this Province has been deprived of the services of a chauffeur and a Secretary, except when required for official purposes. It is getting even with a vengeance for withholding assent to a few bills, among which, when the Lieutenant Governor wants to write a letter to Mr. Aberhart, he has first to say: "Mr. Aberhart, will you please let me have a stampgrapher?" The situation is far from pleasant, but at all that we imagine the Lieutenant Governor probably feels more comfortable about the whole affair than the Premier, that is to say, if the latter has any sense of the fitness of things in his make-up.

FARMERS TIRED OF EMPTY PROMISES

INTHEIR MEETING held at Olfen Creek Saturday night, and attended by producing farmers from all parts of the country, the men of the local branch of the Alberta Farmers' Association, in charge of the meeting and taking an active part in the discussion, demonstrated that they were far more capable of reading, understanding and evaluating legislation than the one member of the legislature who is supposed to represent them and who was present on invitation to present the government's side of the case in defence of the production tax.

On his return, Mr. Lamplsey created another but a favorable impression for himself and the government. He may not that the letter of the law is bad, but the spirit of it must be taken into consideration, fell upon an intelligent audience, who consider this one of the laws of the Province, neither Mr. Lamplsey nor Mr. Aberhart might be present to say what was the spirit of the act, and that any legislation by the government is to be accepted as the spirit of the law. Mr. Lamplsey also commented that while the rate of seven per cent is high, "perhaps it might be only half of that," and he urged that "you people are my friends and my neighbors, and you know that I would not do anything to harm you." If you think so, then you should kick us out" at which voices were raised in the hall enclosed as with one voice: "What about the recall?"

The presentation of the proposal on the part of the farmers' union was handled clause by clause, and there was no room left for doubt as to the thorough study that had been made of the new legislation and the serious view taken of its implications. Farmers have really united to present their protest against what they view as an iniquitous piece of legislation to rob them of their fair profits, and they mean to carry their fight all the way.

ROYAL COMMISSIONS

PEAKING OF ROYAL COMMISSIONS, didn't the Turgeon grain report inspire you? From the grain growers' stand-point it turned out to be just another Roman holiday for Turgeon and his side-kicks, for nothing of importance was discovered, and only a mellow coating of whitewash given the present set-up. Any member of parliament from Western Canada could have given just as brilliant an opinion on the subject, and perhaps far more convincing. As a grain grower, I might add, I have no evidence before one of Turgeon's commissions and it did not do us any harm. The Turgeon himself had little but contempt for the man of the soil. Fortunately, at that time he had Mr. Van Allen of Edmonton along with him, and he had real human understanding. This Royal Commission stuff is out as far as we are concerned. If our present legislators won't do these things for us without abounding themselves with shift royal Commissions, let's elect another gang that will.

PARENTS

SOME CHILDREN show mighty little judgment in their selection of parents. Jack Coogans' father was probably all right, but he died and Jack's mother married a man named Bernstein. Jackie is no longer a kid. He is 23 and married, and thinks he ought to get some part of the money that he earned as a juvenile star. He has sued his mother and step-father. They say he is not entitled to any of it. His mother swore he was sometimes a very bad boy. Under the California law, he cannot claim for wages earned in his minority, and Bernstein agrees with it and with her. So there is mother love for you! It is almost step-fatherly in its origin and intensity.

The quirks, too, did not show much discretion in their selection of a dad. He signed a contract within a few days after their birth to have them exploited at the Chicago World Fair. The Ontario Government stepped in and took over their guardianship in the King's name. Papa Dionne wrote to the King, but the letter was lost in the mails or in the circulation office. He, with Dr. Dafoe and several others, were named managers and guardians. He has now retained an Ottawa lawyer to demand a probe into the six hundred thousand dollars that have been collected and placed in a trust for the infants. He alleges that the guardian—he is one of them, but has attended very few meetings—interfered with the children's education and religion, and his complaints are backed by the Association of Education, Canadian-Francophone d'Ontario, an organization that loses no opportunity to promote the French language. The children are being reared in the faith of their parents and are speaking French. The doctor in an interview said he wishes it were true that they are speaking English as well. One would think the parents would wish the same.

DEMOCRACY

WE WOULD draw attention to some of the things we people in Canada enjoy and ask you if you would care to exchange what you have for the gift of Fascism or Communism. In Germany and Italy there are no Boy Scouts. Such organizations were officially banned. In either of these countries can the Masonic Lodge or any other secret society function. In Russia you do as you are told and support Stalin, or else. The "else" usually means a bullet through a vital spot. And just stop to figure out for yourself how much employment we would have in Canada if all our young men of military age were serving in the army. We'll take democracy with all its faults . . . and we are willing to put up quite a scrap to keep it.

DON'T OVER-RATE YOUR BANKER

He cannot perform Miracles

There would be more banks than grocery stores all over Canada if banks could perform the miracle of "creating" the sum of payment out of nothing.

It is easy to confuse these two things:

- The location of commercial banking, and
- Control of a nation's monetary system.

Commercial banking has to do with the safe-keeping and lending of money and credit.

Control of a monetary system is a matter of national, governmental policy.

Chartered banks finance production and commerce.

Money policy in any country is a matter for the national government itself, either directly, or through a central bank.

The Dominion Parliament established Canada's central bank in 1934 — the Bank of Canada. Its purpose was declared by Parliament in the very first paragraph of the Act of Incorporation, as follows:

"To regulate credit and currency in the best interests of the economic life of the nation, to control and protect the currency and credit of the country, and to promote the welfare of the people by its influence on the general level of production, trade, prices and employment so far as may be possible, and by the use of its powers to encourage and promote the economic and financial welfare of the Dominion."

It is for governments alone to determine a country's monetary policy. Decisions of this kind, of course, may make what is wise for one country unwise for another.

Printing "tickets" — as currency has been called in this respect — is a way of getting out of step with production which would make everything you buy cost you more. A Canadian woman living in Germany during that country's inflation period had to pay 65,000,000 marks for an overcoat, and later 1,000,000,000 marks for a postage stamp!

The business of commercial banking is itself, to be considered in itself, apart from central banking.

A commercial bank takes deposits. There are two kinds of deposits. For one, you can call them "savings" and "current".

Say you are a workman, or a farmer. After you've paid your living costs out of your wage, or the money you spend on the farm, you have some dollars left over. Because you do not want to spend them at once you deposit them in a savings account.

This is a savings deposit. As distinguished from this is the "current" account. Say you are a merchant. You have expenses to meet day by day and there is always a balance in an account in an account against which you issue cheques for your business needs.

That is a current account.

Let us say you have $100 in that account, and you need $1,000 to meet some bills. You borrow it from the bank.

You give the manager your note and he places $1,000 to your credit as a deposit in your current account. Immediately your balance goes up to $1,100 — $100 of it being derived directly from a loan.

It is like a savings deposit in this respect: You intend to spend it at once. You immediately issue cheques against it.

You borrowed the money for business purposes, prepared to pay interest because the transaction was a profitable one to you. Soon most of the thousand had been paid out.

For most of the rest of the time the loan has rest at its lowest. Then, before your note is due you gather money to repay. Up goes your deposit to a new high.

Then you repay. Your deposit abruptly drops back to say your original $100 plus the profit you have made, by the use of the business money.

No matter what kind of bank deposits are savings or current, your bank must keep on hand cash reserves adequate to meet all demands from day to day.

When the bank is increased, not only is more cash paid out — as was the case with your $1,000 loan; but your cash reserves also become lower in proportion to total deposits.

A bank must not only expand its banking operations, for its cash will fall below the proportion which experience has shown to be necessary to meet the day-to-day demands of depositors. This is fact serves as an automatic check against excessive lending.

Your bank cannot know just when you will walk in and withdraw your deposit. It is not ready to pay you in full, in cash, when you do turn up.

THE CHARTERED BANKS OF CANADA

Your local branch bank manager will be glad to talk banking with you. He will be glad to answer your questions from the standpoint of his own experience. The next article in this series will appear in this newspaper. Watch for it.

be followed, in some cases, by the formation of a tubercular abscess. The various disease germs set up inflammations, which have much in common, but with distinctive characteristics depending upon which germ is responsible.

The inflammation of the lungs, which is caused by an tubercle, is caused by the action of the tubercle bacillus. It tends to break down the lung structure so that cavities, small or large are formed.

We recover from an inflammation, tuberculous or other, when healing takes place. It may be said that all treatment of an tuberculous is planned to place the disease of the lung at rest, or to remove it from the body.

Without sufficient rest, healing is impossible.

When breathing is to be utilized in a plastic cast, and is placed at rest, pain, redness and swelling are the typical symptoms of inflammation, to enable them to rest enough to insure healing. This is what has happened in thousands of cases who have, in years past, come out of sarcoidosis with their disease arrested.

Unfortunately, this form of rest is not sufficient to allow for healing in all cases. In some cases, it did not improve under bed rest that surgical therapy was first suggested. Surgery is now widely used to collapse the diseased lung, for when it is collapsed, it is given complete rest which is ideal for healing.

Today, colostomy, or surgical treatment of one kind or another, is recognized as one of the greatest advances of our age in the treatment of tuberculosis. No longer is surgery the last resort, but rather an early chance. Its use depends upon proper selection of cases for such treatment. It is not a cure-all. The earlier cases are recognized, the better the opportunity at the time when it can do the most good.

"THE STORE OF QUALITY"

The 1938 Fishing Season opened last Monday and a large crowd of enthusiasts took up rod and reel and spent the day at the Bassano Dam, all eager to catch the first fish of the season. Quite a number of people came down from Galt to get in on the fun. Several fine catches were reported, but so far the Recorder has heard of no worthwhile "fish stories." However the season is young yet, so, before long we'll be hearing about them and the stories will somehow managed to get away.

There will be a dance held in the 1000 Hall, Bassano, May 19th, sponsored by the local hall club. Admission 25c. Ladies free. Ladies are asked to please bring lunch. Proceeds from the dance are to be used to supply necessary new equipment for the Ball club. Music will be supplied by Casey, Don, and Harry and everyone is invited to attend.
